Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Chin-Chih et al(6994522).

Chin-Chih et al teaches a fan blade(32) being integrated with an active carbon filtration layer(5; column 2 lines 61-67) being perforated with a plurality of through holes(34) with the active carbon filtration layer covering up surfaces of each through hole and the blade(figure 6). Chin-Chih et al further teaches wherein the blade is made in the form of a hard net(netted portion 33) and is perforated with a plurality of through holes.
